Entry Category

Urban Agriculture Physical Product / System

This category is for physical products. Products may be part of a larger system or plan, and may be as large as a building or as small as a pin.

Urban Agriculture Social Product / System

This category is for systems that involve on or offline communications, interactions and behaviors. The scope of these systems may be communication between as few as two individuals but must be scalable to be considered viable.

Additional Credits

List any additional team members you would like credited for your entry.

Pre-registration

You must pre-register on-line to receive an Eventbrite Order #, which will serve as your entry number at the time of submission. If you attended the Digging Deeper Workshop in San Francisco on September 27, 2009 please use the Eventbrite Order # you received from the event.

The registration fee is $45 US for current members of the Industrial Designers Society of America (IDSA), American Institute of Graphic Artists (AIGA) and Interaction Designers Association (IXDA), and $60 for non-members, payable through the Digging Deeper SF website:

<http://diggingdeepersf.net>

All registrations and fees are due by Jan 10th, 2009. Late registration is acceptable before Jan 30th, 2009, for an additional $25.

Submission Requirements

Submission dates:

between Nov. 6th, 2009 & Jan. 31st, 2010 (midnight PST).

E-mail entries digitally, along with this Entry form, to: diggingdeepersf@gmail.com

File naming:

Please use your Eventbrite Order # in all entry file names.

For additional Entry Format requirements, see the Digging Deeper Competition Details.

All entries will remain anonymous during judging. Any submissions that include names or affiliations on any documents except the entry form may be disqualified.

For video entries hosted elsewhere or requiring specific technology, or if you have any questions about the design competition, please contact Charlie@idsa-sf.org.
